Foreword

The Department of Art and Culture, Mara Autonomous District Council is immensely happy to bring out the reprinted version of one of the very rare books entitled “A Grammar and Dictionary of the Lakher Language” written by Fred. W. Savidge of the Arthington Mission.

I am to confess that the genuineness of this very rare book has not come to our knowledge until recently when one of our leading scholar in Mizoram look through old files in the office of the Deputy Commissioner, Lunglei. It is indeed a valuable and incalculable piece of work immensely enriching the history of our people.

The Department of Art and Culture felt necessary to reprint in its original form as it would certainly facilitate scholars and writers with material informations on the rich history, culture and languages of the Maras.
